The Randolph contest is compromised by casting 2 Donglas and 2 Adinistration votes James Garvin moved to raise committee, to be appointed by the chair, to reational Convention for the State at large. John L. Robinson moved to amend that such election he made by a vote by counties, claiming at for one he would not give the power to the jair to select a committee to report Douglas delrates, and would ask that the matter be settled

S. II. Buskirk said that the popular expression Indiana was largely for Donglas, and that four his friends ought to be selected to go to harleston, and the surest way to do that was to irsue the old usage by raising a committee to

H W. Harrington contended that, as the Doughas men had the power, they ought to exercise the wav indicated in the first motion. The bles were turned now to what they were two ears ago, and Robinson's motion was the last sort of the minority to control the majority. Gov. Willard defended his course as President f the Convention of 1858, and advocated the nendment. Let a fair vote be now taken here; Douglas has n majority, let all submit; il Dougis be nominated at Charleston he would sustain im, and asked his friends to do likewise if another nominated.

Mr. Wallace replied, saying Willard had admited that the usage had been for a committee and of in the way proposed by Robinson. He denied at in the convention of 1853, Gov. Willard, as bresident, had constituted a Committee on Resoitions composed of a majority of anti-Lecompton nen; the reverse was time; not one of that stamp as on the committee. When this uestion is decided, and the victory is lost or won, lowever decided, let all abide by it.

After some further discussion the previous ques ion was called and sustained by a vote of 239 to Norman Eddy moved that a Committee on Resolutions be appointed by the Chair, and asked that the minority have a fair representation on said committee. Adopted.

Gov. Willard arose and withdrew the name of Cyrus L. Dunham as candidate for Governor, who, in response to the call, came forward and addressed the Couvention, being received with much applause. In conclusion, he put in nomination Thomas A. Hendricks for Governor, to he voted upon at the proper time.

James Garvin moved that the delegates from each Congressional district report two names as delegates to Charleston, and also electors.

J. L. Robinson gave notice that he would resist all attempts of the Convention to control the delegates after selection. W. H. Talbott desired to know whether the Convention will attempt to exercise the right to confirm such selections. If a majority of the Convention so declare, he would, for one, favor the withdrawal of his county from this Convention. In answer to a question, he would say that he went to Charleston as a delegate, he would vote as instructed by his district, and not as instructed by the State at large.

A resolution was adopted to the effect that each district select and report to the Convention names of delegates and electors.

J. C. Walker moved to raise a committee to

Mr. Vandegrift denied the right to strike out and insert the name of any delegate recommend ed by the district delegation, and in such event his county would withdraw hom the Convention. N. Eddy advocated instructions for Douglas, and claimed that this Convention could instruct the whole delegation to Charleston to east its vote as a unit for Douglas, and such instructions

Gov. Willard snid if Indiana is for Douglas, the delegates ought to vote for him; but the truc way was to let them obey such instructions as might be given by their districts; but he would adrise no instructions from any quarter.

Governor P. C. Dunning said he loved Stephen A. Douglas and his principles. Governor Willard had said he had advised an Administration delegate to vote for Donglas, and why should not this convention do the same thing to all del By a resolution of instruction the dele gates selected here were to represent the whole State, not particular portions of it, and, as dele gates for the whole State, this State Convention had power to instruct each and all.

J. H. GARDNER'S ENGLISH AND CLASSICAL FEMALE INSTITUTE,

FEMALE INSTITUTE,

BRIDGEPORT, KY.

THE semi-yearly sessions of this Institute commence on the first Monday in February, and the first Monday in February, and the first Monday in September, each year. The course of study embraces the Primary, Aeademical, and Collegiate Departments, with the Modern Languages. The mode of instruction is thorough and scientific. To raise the standard of Femule Education is the great aim of the Teachers, and to aid them in this, we "Visiting and Examining Committee" of three will visit the school quarterly, and by their rigid examinations will prove, it is hoped, valuable anxiliaries to the Teachers in exciting a spirit of energy and application. The course of instruction embraces four departments, and diplomus will be granted those who complete thoroughly and successfully a full course of study. The location is in the pleasant village of Bridgeport, (four miles from Frankfort and forly-eight from Louisville,) which is unsurpassed for its salubrity, and the morality and refluement of its inhabituants make it a desirable place for the education of girls. It is convenient of uccess by the Louisville, Frankfort, and Lexington rairoad, and by daily stages and camibuses from Frankfort; Shelby ille, and Louisville. The young ladies board in the family of the Principal, and are treated with parental care and kindness, quoying at the same time all the advantages of a refined social intercourse. The sessions will continue twenty weeks; but pupils are received at any time and charged accordingly. No deduction made for absence or withdrawal save in cases of protracted filness. It is known by a few individuals in the ceunties of Jetfersen. Shelby, and Oldham, that I have a reunedy that effectually cures Rooping-Cough. If there are remedies in America or Europe that cures, it is not within my knowledge, (except the one I use.) Physicians tell the families they attend it can't be cured. I have no doubt they are caudid in what they state. To get the mediciae in use, and lull to sleep a deep-rooted prejudice, the faculty are invited to get the medicine, and save the little innocents whom they attend, and tell them no more it cannot be cured. THE VESPER GAS AIR LIGHT,

The Cheapest, most Brilliant, and most Convenient Artificial Light In the World? Tille Vesper Gas Light has wen for itself a reputation for clegance, economy, safe's, and suphrety far beyond any other ar ficial light. The Vesper Gas flaine and fixtures precisely resemble in form those of ead gas; but in brilliancy and purity of light, it possesses a decided advantage over even Louisville coal gas. It requires no chimnes; there is no need of drily trimming of wick; and the construction of the fixture is so sample that it is not lable to get out of order, and a child can manage it readily. The gas burned in the Vesper fixtures is generated from pure ceal oil, without any admixture of alcoh does after foreign integedient. It is entirely free from odor while burning, as, by a simple contrivunce, the rapor of the oil is lixed with the atmosphere, or ducing perfect combustion and a most intense light. The Latt has been pronounced by those when had it in constant use for months, as mest pleasant to the eye while reading or sawing, there tengs no flicker or unstea lines in the fame. The Vesper Gas Light is portable, and can be used in towr or courtry—in fact, wherever artificial light is required. The fixtures themselves are adapted in styles to suit all tas'es, from the plain single-light burner to the most costly chandelier. Beach claudelier is perfect in itself; there is no out ay to be made for service pipes. The gas is generated in the burner, and all fixtures, from the decap single-light burner to the expensive chandelier, are miniature gas-works in themselves. They are soid at prices which do not exceed the cost of the ordinary gas fixtures of similar style and crammentation. A price list will be sent to any address on application.

The New American Cyclopædia is popular without being superficial, learned but not pedantic, comprehensive but sufficiently detailed, free from personal pique and party prejudice, fresh and yet accurate. It is a complete statement of all that is known upon every important topic within the scope of human intelligence. Every unpertant article in it has been speemly written tor its pages by men who are authorities upon the topics on which they speak. They are required to bring tho subject up to the present moment; to state just how it stands now. All the statistical information is from the latest reports; the geographical acc unts keep page with the latest explorations; historical matters include the freshest just views; the bicgraphical notices not only speak of the dead, but also of the living.
